General Plan Designation

The General Plan is a policy document which helps inform land use decisions in the community and embodies the values and goals of the community and its residents. The subject properties (outlined in black) have multiple designations listed below.

Open Space

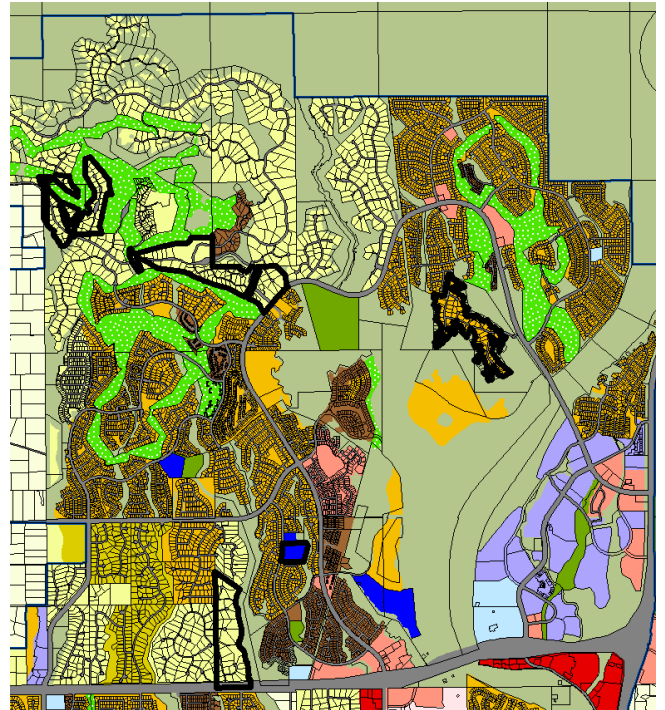

This land use designation represents areas that are natural open space which have been preserved through zoning, conservation easements or public ownership.

Low Density Residential

This land use designation represents areas where single-family homes are appropriate, but only when it will allow retention of a rural, open character.

Medium Density Residential

This land use designation represents areas where single-family home, townhouse or patio home development is appropriate.

Existing Zoning Designation

The subject properties have a zoning designation of Low Density Residential in the Rancho Vistoso Planned Area Development (PAD), which permits single-family homes and accessory uses (I.E. swimming pools), parks, playgrounds and other community buildings, private tennis courts, golf courses and clubhouses, model homes, temporary real estate sales offices, temporary utility uses and religious facilities.
